Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 07 April 2010.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 – 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Application No. 2007/0259688 (Forte) in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,704,580 (Fintel) and further in view of U.S. Patent No. 7,224,988 (Appelman).

With respect to claims 1 – 3, 9, 11 – 13 and 19, Forte teaches a method and system where a PBX 14 receives an incoming call directed to the PBX (Paragraph 0025), routing the call based on user preferences (Paragraphs 0021, 0033 and 0034) and routing to a computing device (Paragraph 022).

Forte discloses the instant limitations except for the docking station aspects. However, note that Fintel teaches such (see at least Figs. 1 – 2 and Col. 3, lines 17 – 35). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have incorporated such a docking station in which once removed from the docking station the calls are switched to a preferred device as disclosed by Fintel into the Forte device, as such would only entail a well known use for docking stations.

With respect to analog or digital and VoIP, neither Forte or Fintel teach such, however, note that Appleman does at Col. 2, lines 43 – 60, Col. 4, line 19 and Col. 4, lines 32 – 47. Note also Fig. 1 and cradles 118a, 112a, 114a and 116a. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have incorporated such use as analog and digital and VoIP into the Forte/Fintel system as an obvious convenience to a user.

With respect to claims 4 and 14, note paragraphs 0021 and 0033 of Forte.

With respect to claims 6 and 16, such would be inherent.

With respect to claims 7 and 17, note paragraph 0022 of Forte.

With respect to claims 10 and 20, note paragraphs 0046 and 0049 of Forte.

With respect to claims 8 and 18, an icon being displayed on a computing device for indicating an incoming call, such is notoriously old in the art and it would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art to have provided such wherever it was deemed necessary.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 - 20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the Abstract and Figs. of the additional references cited on the accompanying 892.
